A Cave of Ginnts.

A correspondent of the Philadelphia Times furnishes a highly interesting description of a noted cave in Adams county, Ohio, discovered many years ago. Recent explorations go to with a violent cough that lasted till within a show that the exervations were the work of a of years before Columbus discovered the New World. The entrance to the cive is located in what is known as the old Smith farm, by a well hole three feet in diameter. At a depth of twenty five feet there is a dry cavern with smooth, even floer, roof and walls of freesions. Passing through a corridor six feet wide there is another chamber, and a second cerrider conace s with a third chamber. The latter has a of limestone. The water orzing through the roof has formed theusands of stalee ites. There is a fourth obamber to gain acress to which is is necessary to climb a steep, wet tank and equerat through a narrow fissure in the rock, which was originally a carridar like the others, but has been contracted by some convulsion of nature. In one corner of this fourth chamber there is a yawsing well, ten feet in dismeter. At the mouth of this well can be heard the musmur of an underground stream of water many hundreds of feet below. B wond the fourth comber there are five others connected by narrow galleries. With the exception of the third chamber, all are of the same width and beight, though of different lengths. Every corner of the cave has been theroughly explored thousands of times, and the wells of the limestone chambers are covered with the names of visitors. One inscription, high up on the wall, reads: "Von Brady, R. cently a party of explorers decended the wall by means of a rope ladder. About fifty feet down there was an entrace; to another cavero. The gallery is straight and fifty feet lorg, where it enteres large room 220 feet leng. 110 feet wide and 24 feet in height. The roof, floor and walls are smooth and even. In the Cure Fover and Ague, Sick Headache and centre of this apartment is a carcophagus and Bilious Colic. mauseleum combined. The mauseleum at its resurres P11.L5 base measures 55 by 35 feet. It is of simple, though beautiful design, and carved out of solid reck. Its base is paneled on all sides, these panels coatsising bas reliofs, which are supposed represent the four seasons in me childhood, youth, manhood and old age. At the ead of the bas-reliefs are tablets fall of Hebraic, presumed to be memoriams of the personer persons in whose honor (h) mausoleum is erceted. The carving on the basreliefs is of the most delicate description, and fully equal to the Grecian school of sculp ture. In the centre rises a couch twelve feet loog and five feet wide. It is probably of life size, and measures nine feet four inches in length. The limbs are ficely proportioned, and disposed to an easy and graceful manner. The arms are folded acress the breast, and the fing ors clasp a bunch of leaves resembling oak, reproduced with such fidelity to nature that they look like petrifice ions. Every vein and serras tion of the leaf is perfect. The figure is partially nude, a mantle or scarf crossing the breast and loins and falling in graceful folds on each side. The face is one of great strength and beauty, and the features are of a Hebrew cast. The head is covered with a winged cap, or helmet. At each corner of the couch is a vase four foot nine inches bigh, covered with beautifully carved flawers and leaves. They are in shape something like an amphora, except that the bottom is flat and the handles affixed to the body of the vase. The neck is thirteen inches in length and tanors gradually and gracefully. The vests are of uniform siz , although the carved designs are different. They meas, ure in circumferecco four feet five icebes. The diameter of the neck is six inches. Suspended from the roof, and directly over the head of the recumbent figure is a copper lamp of unique design, elegantly chased, and kept in position by rods of the same metal. At each corner of the mausoleum rises a carved tyramidal column, surmounted by eurs that ere uomietakabey Dorie. On two sides of the room are tombs of humbler decign. They are side by side, of uniform size and twenty in number, ten on a side. The tops are ony ered with slabs accurely comented. Co the front of each is a raised seroil, occurred with written characters. On the wall of the room is painted twenty-five taces, no doubt portrains of the occurants of the tombs. Eight of these laces, though blurred, can be recognized as GRAND, SQUARE AND UPRIGHT.

Highest honors Paris Exposition 1878. The Stiefl Boudoir Grand, or Upright, the artist's children, five of you he, two of young mon, nine the centre of the group, an exact copy of the recumbent figure to the mausoleum. The cel ors used are red, yellow and black, and have evidently been mixed with oil. One of the email tombs was opened and disclused a mummy rice feet one inch in length. The cloth covering the face was removed, and the head crumbled to dust. Some of the bair stuck to the cloth as it was brought away. It is black, early, and of fine texture. The tomb also contained a spear head or hatchet, two lances, three mattecks or hoes, a spade, a cur, iwe plates and a small ure. All of these were of copper, hardened in some poculiar manner that a file will sourcely make a scratch, and a cold chiefl turns up like lead when struck against the metal. A square package at the head of the tomb contained a book of 100 leaves of thin copper, fastened locsely at the top and crowded with finely cagraved characters, similar to those already described. The stalacites are supposed to have formed since it was abandoned by the recycl giants formerly occupying it. Calculating their lougth and the slow formation, it is estimated that it has taken 3,325 years in reaching their present length. At the mouth of the cave there are fragments of rock, which at one time

New York, Sept. 19, 1877.
Dr. Tutt: Dear Sir—During this year I treated nine hundred cases of lung diseases. In the ed nine hundred cases of lung diseases. In the lower wards of the city the cases were of a very severe type. It was there my attention was called to Tutt's Expectorant, and I confess my surprise at its wonderful power. During a practice of twenty nearly here.

ice of twenty years I have never known a medcine to act as promptly and with such happi-effects. It instantly subdued the most violen fits of coughing, and invariably cured the di-seaso in a few days. I cheerfully endorse it as the best lung medicine I ever used. J. FEANCIS HAY WOOD, M.D.

HAD TERRIBLE RIGHT SWEATS.

Memphis, February 11, 1871. Dr. Tutt: Sir-I have been suffering for nesr-ly two years with a severe cough. When I commenced taking your Expectorant I was relofty, arched dome, and the floor and roof are duced to one hundred and sixteen pounds in of limestone. The water of zing through the roof has fermed theusands of stalacties. There is a fourth chamber to gain access to which is cough has disappeared, and I have gained fitteen pounds in firsh. I recommend it to all my friends. With great respect, header, have you caught a cold? Ara you unable to raise the phiogen? Have you an irritation in the threat? A sense of oppression on the lungs, with short breath? Do you have a the lungs, with short breath? Do you have a fit of coughing on lying down? A sharp pain now and then in a region of the heart, shoulders and back? IF SO, OUR ADVICE IS to take at once a desa of Tutt's Expectorant; you will soon be able to raise the palegm. In an hour repeat the Expectorant, place a hot iron to the feat, take two of Tutt's Pills. You will soon fall into a pleasant sloop and wake up in the morning cough gone, lungs working freely; easy breathing and the bowels moving in a natural manner. To prevent a return of these symptoms use the Expectorant several days.
